OUR KEY DIFFERENTIATOR

Bridgeway has operated under the same values and ownership for over two decades. A conscious effort is made to continually tailor and shape products and services for corporate and government legal departments only. Every business decision is a relentless pursuit to build client loyalty for the long term, considering their lifetime value, not the value of any single transaction.

Our goal is and always will be to help legal departments make technology an asset. We develop software and services that equip departments facing everyday challenges in the areas of case, evidence and public inquiry management, litigation hold and e-discovery. We've coined the phrase, "Legal Enterprise Management" or LEM, to explain our integrated approach to legal department management. An approach designed to drive efficiency while delivering a high quality of service in an ever increasing complexity of department processes.

LawManager provides government agencies and corporate legal departments with the ability to meet challenging requirements using the ultimate in matter management flexibility and control. When you need a solution that can adapt to your highly specialized matter management and system integration requirements, you need LawManager.
